

Baby Girl Nyemia Gilliard

June 11, 2021 - October 4, 2022

Nymemia Millan Gilliard was born on June 11, 2021, in Baltimore, Maryland, at Sinai Hospital at 12:18 am weighing 6lbs 8oz., to parents Aurielle Montgomery and Jawauan Gilliard. Nyemia has given us a lifetime of love in such a short period of time. Her personality would radiate the room. She has brought so much joy to everyone's life who she came in contact with, from her bossy face to her breathing with her nose flared out. She would shrug her shoulders and dance in the middle of the floor to Gracie Corner. Nyemia loved to having books read to her. She loved to scream in a high pitch to let everyone know "I'm here". Her favorite toy was star belly and she enjoyed playing in the pool on a hot summer day with her Nana. Her nickname that her aunt Simone gave her, was Nemo.

Nyemia was truly a gift from God. We will all miss the smiles and the different faces that she made to express herself. She was loved and she impacted so many lives. It's painful not to have her here to touch, kiss, and hold close but we have to hold on to the memories to get through.

I felt ur pain in this as a parent. God will always be there to get u through stuff but Aurielle does not deserve forgiveness... God will understand that. Nyemia should have had a mother that wanted to protect her. Aurielle has made posts on social media almost mocking it. My daughter was tortured and severely injured by a babysitter at 1½ yrs old and they got away with it because she couldn't talk. I cant imagine everything ur going through but I can relate. That female does not deserve to be forgiven. Its ok to be angry because ur baby deserved to live
